SubservPro to be sold to Mayday

Global Marine to sell recruiting division as it continues to focus on its core business

Chelmsford UK: Global Marine Systems Limited today announced an agreement to sell SubservPro, a wholly owned subsidiary to Oxfordshire based Mayday Employment. SubServPro, a recruitment consultancy providing human resources to companies throughout the world, will become a division of Mayday Employment.

Global Marine formed SubservPro in 2002, when it became more cost effective to manage recruiting themselves. Due to the unique staffing demands required by a business such as Global Marine, SubservPro has been an important component in securing essential personnel around the world for subsea telecom and power cable installation and maintenance business.

"Today's agreement is excellent news for both companies. Recruiting is very important to us and our JV partners throughout the world, because of this we look forward to a strong ongoing relationship with Mayday. We expect the combination of SubservPro and May Day to exceed our expectations as a reliable vendor moving forward." said Gabriel Ruhan, Managing Director for Global Marine. "This move is a great growth opportunity for May Day, and will provide Global Marine with a top tier recruiting partner as we continue to focus on the future of our core installation and maintenance business."

Mayday has built a reputation for quality delivery of personnel in all disciplines on a permanent, contract and managed service basis. "We are excited about the growth opportunities that will come from this purchase." said Celia Chandler, Managing Director for Mayday. "Over the last 8 years, we have more than trebled our customer base and job count, and this acquisition will give us access to international markets and customers, as the online virtual environment continues to grow as a key meeting place for skilled professionals and employers."
